

Budgeting Seminar

On August 13, 2013, National Budget Planners presented "Budgeting," a seminar in which attendees learned to sharpen their money-management skills. During the seminar, the Presenter lead exercises that helped participants assess their spending habits. At the presentation's conclusion, participants received free financial information featuring advice about smart spending habits and about National Budget Planner's credit counseling services.

NBP is confident that attendees left this seminar with a better understanding of financial planning and management.
